March 7th, 2021

Good Morning Dear Friend.

We're so glad that you are worshipping the Lord with us today.

He is kind and gracious, and O so patient with each of us.

Without His patient love, none of us would have any hope. In today's passage, we see Jesus teaching His followers what we can learn from that, and some practical ways to apply those lessons.

How do we treat people who mistreat us? How do we behave toward someone who's bad behavior has affected us? May God help us respond to others as He responds to us, for His glory.

Thanks again for coming; have a great week!

II. Handling _____ Others

CONCLUSION

"We may not be able to prevent other people from being our enemies, but we can prevent ourselves from being enemies toward others."

- Warren Wiersbe

"Beware of no man more than of yourself; we carry our worst enemies within us."

- Charles Spurgeon

"A good man is kinder to his enemy than bad men to their friends."

- Joseph Hall

"Does loving your enemy mean not punishing him? No, for loving myself does not mean that I ought not subject myself to punishment-even to death. If you had committed a murder, the right Christian thing to do would be to give yourself up to the police and be hanged." - C.S. Lewis
